The Bible Tour 2015 announces partnership with ChildFund International

Adds new show to meet high ticket demand

All-star line-up includes Steven Curtis Chapman, Francesca Battistelli, Brandon Heath and Danny Gokey

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (Mar. 9, 2015) – The Bible Tour 2015, which launches April 8, has already sold-out the Philadelphia show and is adding a matinee to satisfy the demand in Stamford, CT. The matinee begins at 2 p.m., followed by an evening performance at 7pm. Click HERE for more information.

The 16-show live-concert experience, inspired by the epic TV-series, The Bible, watched by over 100 million people, also announces their partnership with ChildFund International. Each show will include an opportunity for concert-goers to learn about the work of ChildFund and provide monetary support for families and children in a specific region in Kenya.

"ChildFund is excited to partner with The Bible Tour," says Jeffrey Miller, director of artist relations at ChildFund. "As a result of this partnership, the lives of thousands of children and families in the Great Rift Valley of Kenya will be forever transformed. It's an amazing thing to work with artists and producers who not only work to create an amazing night of experiential music, but also seek to use the evening to positively impact the lives of those in greatest need."

Launching April 8th, the tour is a partnership between 25 Entertainment and K-LOVE, as well as The Bible series creators and producers Mark Burnett (The Voice, Survivor, The Apprentice, Shark Tank, The Bible, Son of God, A.D. The Bible Continues) and Roma Downey (Touched by an Angel, The Bible, Son of God, A.D. The Bible Continues).
